Bob is an English teacher. He lived in Tokyo at first but moved to Kamakura because he likes visiting old temples*. Now he enjoys his life there.

On New Year's day, he got up very early and went to Tsurugaoka Hachimangu for hatsumoude. He prayed* for happiness in the year 2019. After that, he walked to the beach and waited for the sunrise*. He took pictures of the beautiful sunrise, and felt very happy. But after he got home, he found that his camera was not in his bag. He asked himself, "Where is my camera? Where did I leave it?" He was sad to lose the camera because it was a gift from his grandfather. He thought and thought. Then he said, "Now I remember! I left my camera in the restroom at Kamakura Station!" He called the station right away and asked about his camera. A woman answered his call and said, "What does your camera look like?" Bob answered, "The camera is white and it has my name, Bob, on it. And it is in a black case. Do you have it?" The woman said, " We have your camera. Someone found your camera in the restroom and brought it to us. Can you come and get it today?" Bob said happily, "Sure!"

*temple = お寺

*pray = 祈る

*sunrise = 日の出
